AWARDS & RECOGNITIONS

Sylvia Zavatchen presented "Lessons Learned from the Self-Study Process: Pearls and Pitfalls" at the ACGME meeting in February. The session is designed to give guidance to program coordinators on how to conduct efficient and successful self-study using the eight-step process outlined by the ACGME, how to prepare a solid self-study document and what pitfalls to avoid during these processes.

She is giving this talk, along with Lisa Kempton at our AUR meeting in March.
